Tribute from Marita Judson

Relation: friends through church

I will miss Anna very much. What I loved about Anna was her keen mind and openness to engage with people.

Anna took me sailing on numerous occasions and we had a lot fun as she taught me how to raise the sails and tie proper knots...she loved nothing more than the wind in her hair and the boat at a precarious angle.

I know how much she loved her family as she spoken of you often and lovingly.

Tribute from Martin van den Hooven

Relation: I was a pupil in her grade seven class.

Mrs. Thorpe taught grade seven at Comox Elementary in the fall of 1964. One of the subjects she taught was biology. According to that course's curriculum, she had to teach about evolution, i.e. mankind coming from the apes. She refused to teach that. She stood by her faith in Christ and the Bible. The Principle had to teach the evolution part of the course, while grumbling. I am thankful that I had her as a teacher. I only had her as my grade seven teacher until my parents sold our house in January of 1965 and we moved away. I consider her my most favorite teacher. That includes high school and university. She was a blessing.
