Tribute from Jordanna Haire

Relation: Co-worker

Rest In Peace BA! I loved knowing you and enjoying your sense of humour! You will be greatly missed

---

Tribute from Maureen Davidson

Relation: Coworker and dear friend

Bettyann was one a kind. A truly caring, kind and giving friend and coworker. She always had a smile and such a great sense of humour. She was fun to work with and she made me look forward to Mondays. She was a true friend and I will miss her very much.

Tribute from Angie Sampson

Relation: Co-worker/friend

Well Betty-Ann., your time came and went without a lot of us knowing you were unwell. It is always so hard when someone passes and you have not seen them recently. I believe you were a rare gem. Everyday happy at work. We had a lot of good chuckles about BA's boyfriends. Mumbles Mike comes to mind. Lolol. There was one though that came after and he was a lifer. Dear old Bob. I think I may have introduced them. Hahahahh. Betty-Ann never wanted to miss anything and always wondered what we talked about when she was not there. I know how much she loved her family, nieces and nephews. But seriously, I wish I had gotten another visit in. Miss ya BA

Tribute from Janet Stoddart

Relation: Friend and co worker

Betty Anne made me smile whenever I saw her. Even when things were stressful she could roll her eyes and still make me smile. She was a plus to our office and to our world. Maybe I will see you in the next life. Thank you for brightening our days

Tribute from Eileen Dirom

Relation: Coworker/friend

Bettyann your presence on this earth will be missed. You were the voice voice of home support all those years ago when we worked together. The laughs we shared will always be in my heart. I appreciated you lending an ear many times when I was going through challenges with my son and we shared stories as you also had an atypical nephew. You are a dear person Bettyann. Thank you for being you

Tribute from Val Crossley

Relation: Colleague and friend

Betty Ann (we called her BA), Laura, and I worked together for years at Cowichan Home Support, but had early on discovered that we were all born the same year within 5 days of each other. (Out of an office of 10 people if that wasn't cosmic I don't know what was). So we were a very connected Gemini threesome for years -- sharing many wonderful dinners together at the old Emerald Palace, with, always, lots of laughter, and some unique birthday gatherings including a pj party watching the OJ Simpson white Broncho escape, which was a particular favourite of BA's. BA was very keen to read our tea leaves at our dinners, and occasionally tarot cards and she was very good at it. There was definitely an open minded and spiritual side to her. I suspect she remained curious to the end about what lay beyond this life. BA continued to work at Cowichan Home Support (eventually VIHA) long after most of our original group of co-worker/friends had left, and we kept in touch for a long time, but as the old gang moved away, or retired, we stopped gathering in recent years. But I thought of her often and always hoped I might bump into her somewhere. I am so sorry that our last few efforts to get together didn't pan out -- it seemed as though there would always be another opportunity. Sadly, sometimes there isn't. But I will never forget her. She was much much more than a colleague as is evident in the condolences expressed at this site. She had a way of working her way into all our hearts. She was smart and sassy and funny and unforgettable. Times were not always easy in our workplace in those years, but BA was always uplifting and cheerful. My most sincere condolences to her mum and sisters, nieces, nephews -- she talked about you all so often, I recognized all your names, and you truly were her world. She will be missed by a lot of people, myself included. Rest in peace, my friend.
