Just got back to the island and was saddened and shocked by Carols passing. Scott- my thoughts go to happier days when we were younger and had lots of life to celebrate. Carol was a warm kind woman and words cannot express how much loss you have had to endure. Someday when some kind of spiritual healing somehow comes to you I hope you will ride over here and share a pint and a toast to your loved ones gone before their time. With Love to Carol Will Millar

Dear Scott & Family, I am so incredibly sad to hear about the passing of Carol. I will always remember and treasure all the stories she told me of the critters in her life and her passion and kindness towards animals and her love of her family. Says a lot about who Carol was when almost every condolence speaks about her beautiful kindness as a person. She will be so missed.

Getting to know Carol better was the only good thing about losing my cousin to another town when I was a teenager. Both Carol and I missed her and turned to each other for company (we lived out in the sticks you know) . We had a lot of fun that first summer and for many years after until Carol moved away. I treasure all those memories. RIP my friend
