Relation: Colleague and friend

My thoughts are with Dev's family and all that knew him. I had the privilege to work for him for 3 years and during that time he taught me so much. Beneath his tough lessons and sometimes stern words I could tell he cared deeply for me and others in the workplace. I will remember our phone calls that were always filled with laughter and a determination to get things done and make things better. Dev will certainly never be forgotten. My deepest condolences to his family.
