Tribute from Gina Brown

Relation: Niece of Eric Brown

I have many fond memories of Uncle Eric (and his family) from my childhood. Among my favourite was the three brothers (my Dad Floyd, Uncle Curtis and Uncle Eric) getting together at the large family farm in Pugwash, N.S. The first thing they'd do was buy lobster in Port Howe and some beer, then sit down for a great feed. They were all so funny, clever and full of wry observations - one-upping each other with their exaggerated stories. Meanwhile, umpteen of us kids and pets were having a great time running rampant on the farm. Those were special times!

RIP - Uncle Eric (and Floyd, Curtis and parents Laurie and Augusta)

Tribute from Tanya Brown

Relation: Niece

What a beautifully written biography, it truly captures the essence of Uncle Eric. He will be missed, it is the end of that line of the Brown/Tuttle clan. They were a witty, unique group. I am so glad we had the chance to get to know your family
