I knew George in Bromley can before he immigrated to Canada. He was a true Englishman full of courage and grit and determination. He had a great sense of humor two and a special way of telling you exactly what he thought. He also could train dogs to the nth degree ...another British quality. Warmest always George .your a Bromley friend Ursula

Tribute from Bill Roberts

Relation: An old school friend.

George was one of the more kind and thoughtful members of our school. About 50 years later we made contact and enjoyed with George his several visits to the UK when we visited some of the old haunts and places where George had lived, and enjoyed a pint at the Daylight Inn at Petts Wood. I will not forget my friend George !

Tribute from Roy Bennett

Relation: Friend

I first met George as a member of Gorge Vale golf club . We played many games together both at Gorge and on holidays in California . George was very generous with his time and woodworking equipment when I was making furniture for my home , resulting in pieces I would never have made on my own .His humour and friendship will be sorely missed . RIP George .

Tribute from Wayne and Grace Holmes

Relation: Friend

I first met George through the van island woodworkers guild. We shared a lot of stories and techniques on woodworking. George was always ready to assist with the wood recovery programs where we got urban trees and cut them into lumber for guild members.

Grace and I would often enjoy lunch together with Pat and George. George and I would joke back and forth about who was most useful to society - entrepreneurs or government employees. We had a lot of fun together and we will miss him immensely. You were a wonderful friend, George

Relation: old neighbours

Pat and family,

My sincerest condolences.

I only knew George for a short time. He and Pat were always friendly and welcoming. Whenever I passed by with my dog I was always invited in for a chat. I saw the cheerful, cheeky side of George and I enjoyed it very much. He will be missed.
