Relation: friend

Donna & Family; I had the privilege of knowing Harold since the mid-1960s in Wabush, Labrador. Much later in life, our paths crossed again in the construction industry — he in labour relations, and I on the union side. Miraculously, our friendship picked up right where it left off, and we stayed in touch ever since.

Harold was one of the few people I've known who could stand on either side of the table and still earn the respect of everyone in the room. Whether management or labour, you always knew where you stood with him — and you knew the outcome would be fair.

He truly believed a fair agreement included fairness for workers, and he carried that belief in his heart into every discussion and decision he made.

Rest easy, Harold. You earned every bit of this acknowledgement — and your peace.

Tribute from Michelle Ezekiel

Dear Mercer Family: I am so sorry to hear of Harold's passing, and for your loss. In his Hibernia days, Harold took me under his wing as a young kid starting out in LR, and taught me the value of using integrity, fairness and good old-fashioned humor to bring people on opposite sides of the table together. Throughout my career since then, I have never forgotten his patience and wit, and the many other lessons I learned from him. Rest easy, Harold.

Tribute from Gerry Davis

Relation: Work

Please accept my sincere condolences from my family to yours. I worked with Harold in the 70's in Wabush, Labrador. A born leader and negotiator with an unparalleled wit... for good and bad. Stalwart and unrelenting....Rest in Peace brother.
