Tribute from April Dasorine

Relation: Friend of family

My memories of John were very unforgettable. He was a great man of an enormous heart and such a funny character. He made me realize what true love should be as he missed his beloved Mary so much all he wanted is to be with her. His dreams are now his reality and now his soul is laid to rest with her for eternity. With his love for her so strong, it made me believe that we all have soulmates even beyond death. Today after writing this I have never seen the stars shine so bright. I give my condolences to the family of Lynda McConnell and to her and support she has given John before his passing. For years aiding to his side for comfort and guidance. As my candle is lit, I pray for all those that had great memories of John to heal their sorrows and keep their lights lit and to share happy unforgettable memories of him together.
