Dear Marilyn and family,

I was sorry to learn of Owen's passing. This will be a difficult time for you and my thoughts and prayers go out to you. Bruce reminded me of his visit with Owen many years ago in Moosejaw and their discussions of the coastal weather. He was a remarkable man we did not know well. I hope that you and the family have many, many wonderful memories to reflect on in celebration of Owen's life. God bless you and keep you,

Love, Jill and Bruce Tate

Tribute from Robert Tate

Relation: Kairos and University and Life

The Wind Blows Always. Owen knew that and he shared that gift with others. No one knew wind and waves like Owen and whenever the wind blows I will remember him. In our dining room is a photo of Owen and Nancy and I peeking out from behind the ruins at Kingmere. We will remember him in field and forest and garden and sun and rain with tree and flower as a gracious friend who travelled his journey with his loving wife and family and we remember the many and varied times and places when his path crossed ours. They were good times and we have the photos to prove it. I will miss Owen but

I will not forget him. We worked in the dark to celebrate the light and I will celebrate his light even as I am in a dark place just now. What a blessing to have known Owen and shared moments in his life.
Peace and Love, Forever friend.

My heart and thoughts are with you Marilyn, Rosie, Cara and family. Shaine was singing and thinking of Owen at the time of his passing and she commented, "Owen was my first fan", so he holds a very special place in our hearts. He was wonderfully supportive and I cannot help but reflect how lucky we all were to know him.

Blessings,

Ronaye and Shaine Rose Ireland

Marilyn -- I am deeply saddened to hear of Owen's death, as I had hoped to see both of you again sometime in the not too distant future. So, I just wanted to tell you that I am thinking of you and your family at this difficult time. I send you my condolences, although it seems but a small thing.

With love, and remembering the friendships of our youth,

Carolyn Zapf

Hello Marilyn,

It seems only yesterday that I reconnected with Owen at the Kairos reunion two years ago. In a short afternoon hike together we had rolled back the years and stood once again on familiar ground. On August 4th, Julie and I were kayaking down Georgia Straight, with a strong wind at our back, having just read a passage in our kayak manuel that quoted Owen's observations regarding summer weather patterns in the Gulf Islands. We talked about Owen and his contributions to all who venture on the seas. Little did we know that he was struggling with forces far greater than the wind while we sailed safely towards our destination. We remember him, his kindness and his generosity and will continue to do so each time we take up our paddles.

Thinking of you and your family,

Rick Howell

Our love, our thoughts and our prayers are with you. Friendship is a strange and wonderful blessing. Years may pass so quickly but our visit with you and Owen last month made it seem like only days. You are a wonderful family that Owen loved and was so proud of and we know that strength will be there during this difficult time.

Tribute from Tom Nichols

Relation: Fellow meteorologist

Marilyn, I have just received the news about Owen via a retirees link. My condolences to you and your family. News like this is a shock as Owen was not much older than me, and our careers criss-crossed over the past decades. As a fellow meteorologist, I did meet with Owen on a number of occasions and but unfortunately I never had a chance to see you two together.

The mind is a wonderful thing and I'm sure that there are many memories to cherish. I still have images in my mind of activities we shared through school and church as we grew up in Rossland.

Again, my condolences. You and your family are in my thoughts.
