Tribute from Marnie and Mary Morin

Relation: Uncle

Our Uncle Ray had the greatest zest for living life to the fullest: For all those who knew him, he leaves us with the precious gifts of laughter, joy, courage, strength and an indomitable spirit that will live in our hearts forever echoing through the passage of time to remind us to embrace and cherish every minute of our lives. For your worldly wisdom we thank you Uncle Ray. May you be surrounded by eternal love, light, peace and Joy.

Tribute from Rick William Scott

Relation: I was a friend of Ray's son Morris.

To my old friend Morris and his sister, Grace, all my thoughts go out to you and my condolences at the passing of your beloved father. I was fortunate enough to grow up with Morris as a neighbor and a friend during my teenage years and was even lucky enough to have gone on a few fishing trips with Morris and Ray. I am proud to say we were never skunked and am proud to have known Raymond. I know that he will be missed by his son and daughter and by myself because Ray helped shape my life and showed me that a father could be much more than just another dad, he could also be a good friend. I will never forget the man who influenced me and helped to teach the friendship a father and son can share. As well as some of the best fishing spots in the Cowichan Bay and Sansum Narrows. All my condolences to you Morris and Grace. Your friend Rick Scott.

Tribute from Peter Shayler

Relation: acquaintance of daughter

I got to know Grace briefly as I was also a patient in the same room in the Cowichan Hospital during Ray's final days there. During that short time it became obvious that Grace would have done anything within her power to prolong her father's life. It was emotional for me to observe her total dedication. If she were my daughter, I would be extremely proud of her as I'm sure that Ray was. Condolences to the family from Peter and Claire Shayler.
