Tribute from Phil Harrison

Relation: high school and car club

Rob has lived life to the fullest and made more than his contribution to community, with support from Sandi and family.
I have known Rob since high school.
I shed a tear for a very fine human being, and those left behind.

Tribute from Gregg McLennan

Relation: He helped me out of a jam

One cold, moonless December night in 2009 my dog managed to dislodge his tie out from our house and went on a jolly romp down to McAdam/Rotary park dragging 15' of cable. I followed to the park and heard him barking in distress but I could not find him. Finally I narrowed it down to the pond. I knocked on a random door of the street backing onto the pond and by a miracle it was the home of the Lavers. I asked if I could cut through their yard to follow the pleas of my dog. Without missing a beat, Rob said, "Let me get my canoe." Mrs. Laver got out the halogen lights to shine on the pond and we discovered my very naughty and somewhat contrite dog on a small islet in the middle of the pond wrapped around a lone tree. Rob paddled me out and I managed to unhook the boy and somehow we got him into the canoe and safely to the Laver's yard.

I was overwhelmed wondering what on earth I could have done otherwise and how unbelievably lucky I was to pick the house of one so prepared as to make it look like an everyday event for him.
I bought a gift certificate for the Rock Cod Cafe and thank-you card in gratitude and Rob compounded his terrific goodness by returning the certificate to me stating he couldn't accept it.
This is a terrible loss to your family I'm sure and the community more broadly but what a bright shining light for the time we had him.
