Tribute from Margaret Stothart

Relation: We taught together at PKHS in St Albert from 1980 til 2004.

Sheila, I miss you already. You were a mentor and friend to a new English teacher, sharing your wealth of knowledge and listening to my frustrations as I worked to master a new subject area. We shared many a laugh and a lunch over the years.

I was delighted to find you again in 2007 when we moved to the coast, and to meet up with you every so often for lunch or a quilting trip or a sewing fair.

You are gone but never forgotten, my friend.

Tribute from Holly Tibble

Tribute from Amanda McLeod

Relation: Former student.

Mrs. Berry was my AP English teacher at Paul Kane High School from 1996 to 1999, and was my favourite of all my teachers. I loved our class' weekly tea parties, where we'd discuss whatever book we were studying at the moment & enjoy her baked treats. It's been 18 years since I graduated but she made such an impression on me that I found myself thinking of her all these years later. Good journeys Mrs. Berry, thank you for your teachings, humour, passion & support!
